

Grade 1: Independent Reading Video Transcript

00:00 [MRS. KAISER]

Okay now we are going to be reading this text. This information. And it's going to be talking about our laws and who makes laws, because that is our objective.

While you are reading, while you are reading, we are going to be independently. We are doing independent practice. In independent practice, I watch, and I listen. So everybody say – I will do...on my own. Okay, that's when you do it independent practice. And when we do independent practice, what do we do? Read quietly. And silence is golden. Okay, very good.

Okay, as you are reading, as you are reading, I want you to underline words that you are having difficulty understanding, or that you might not know. Underline words as you go, that we are going to learn. Okay?

Are you guys ready? Remembering that this is independent practice, so we are doing this quietly. Ready? Go.

01:30 [KAISER]

[Whisper] Good job Angel.

01:39 [KAISER]

[Whisper] Good job.

01:43 [MRS. KAISER]

Okay, I see that most people are ready. Very good. You have read the first page independently. Good job guys. Now I want you to open up to the second page, the second page. And the title on the second page, the title on the second page say "People Help With Laws" Everybody say it. "People Help with Laws."

Great, now you are going to read the rest of the page independently. Remembering silence is golden. Ready? Go.
